Non-Resident Taxes

IN the town of Westbrook, in the County of Cumberland, for the year 1867.

The following list of Taxes on real estate of non resident owners in the town of Westbrook for the year 1867, in bills committed to Lewis L. Record, Collector of said town, on the first day of July, 1867, has been returned by him to me as remaining unpaid on the twenty-ninth day of June, 1868, by his certificate of that date, and now remains unpaid; and notice is hereby given that if the said taxes, interest and charges are not paid into the treasury of the said town, within eighteen months from the date of the commitment of the said bills, so much of the real estate taxed as will be sufficient to pay the amount due therefor, including interest and charges, will without further notice be sold at public auction, at the Selectmen's office in said town, on MONDAY, the fourth day of January, 1869, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

COAL,
COAL!
Agents for Johns Coal.
THE undersigned having been appointed Agents for the sale of the above Coal, would say to the citizens of Portland
Before you lay in your Winter's Coal, be sure and Try the Johns Coal.
This celebrated Coal has for years stood the highest for domestic use of any White Ash Coal mined. In preparation and quality it has always been kept up to the standard. If the Johns Coal suits once, it will always suit; because there is no mixture. This we claim as a particular advantage over other coals. Consumers by buying the Johns Coal will avoid the continued trouble and annoyance of getting every other year bad slaty coal. Every one has had this trouble. Johns Coal we will warrant to suit in every case. We give a few reasons why the Johns Coal is the BEST.
First—It is the Purest White Ash Coal mined.
Second—It is the most Economical and gives the best heat.
Third—It will not clinker, and for durability and strength it is unsurpassed.
Fourth—It always comes the same.
We sell the Johns Coal at the same price as any other good White Ash Coal. We have for free-burning Coal,
DIAMOND AND LORBERY.
☞ For Furnaces and Parlor Stoves we shall keep the Harleigh,
Hazelton and Sugar-Loaf Lehigh.
Also on hand Hard and Soft Wood.

The Argus on Equal Taxation.

It seems as though the Argus would never cease making misstatements in reference to this question. In an article published a few days since, our neighbor expresses great surprise at our having said, that "nobody has pretended that the Government bonds were exempted from taxation by the United States." We said so, partly because we had examined the various acts of Congress authorizing loans and found no exemption from such taxation in them, and partly because we knew they were in point of fact taxed under existing laws. The Argus ought not to be surprised at a political opponent telling the truth, or at his admitting what could not be concealed from intelligent readers.

But after recovering from its astonishment at our stating what we supposed everybody knew, the Argus goes on to argue in the Socratic mode, by asking questions. "Now if the bonds," it says, "can be legally taxed, why in the name of fairness, and of justice to those who now pay taxes on their property, should not these bonds be made to bear their fair share of the public burdens? No possible reason can be given. Railroad shares are taxed, bank and manufacturing shares are taxed, city and State bonds are taxed. Why should not Government bonds also be taxed?"

Will the Argus tell us what share of the burdens "imposed by the general government," the "railroad and bank shares" it speaks of and "city and State bonds" bear, which are not equally borne by these bonds. The United States tax the income over one thousand dollars of every citizen, and the bonds are not excepted, but are always included. We quoted a day or two since in order to show this, from the printed "return" of income all are requirto make. The blanks are to be seen at the assessors office if any person who is so unfortunate as to have had no occasion to use them wants to see them. To be sure, if one has a small income, that is exempted, but no more than income from any kind of property. This is a very proper provision in favor of the poor. But if a rich man has bonds he is taxed on the whole interest, because the thousand dollars is first taken from all his income, and not from that on his bonds alone, as the Argus would make its readers believe.

If the Argus wants to know why the owner of real estate or bank stock pays a city tax of two and a half per cent. while the bonds are exempted, let it examine the acts of Congress authorizing the loans, and it will find that the bonds are therein expressly exempted from taxation by the city. It was a part of the contract between the borrower and the lender, and we should like to have the Argus say, under its own hand, that in the face of this express exemption, they ought to be or can be taxed by the city. This is what we would venture to call repudiation. This is what we call breaking faith with the creditors of the government. This is what we call stealing from us our good name. This is what would weaken us more in another war, if we should have one, than any stealing of ships and cannon by any new Floyd under any new Democratic administration could possibly do. This is a fire in the rear that the rebels and their friends will we hope not succeed in getting up. The people of this country know too well the value of their credit in the financial world, to be willing to repudiate their contracts so long as they are able to fulfil them. The honor of the nation will not be suffered to be thrown away or trailed in the dust by the soldiers who have risked their lives in defending it, or the citizens who have expended their treasures in upholding it.

More Republican Victories.

A Santa Fe despatch of Wednesday says that the late legislative election in that Territory resulted in a complete Republican victory, and that the Legislature will be two-thirds Republican. The Democratic majority at the Congressional election last year was 97. In all the late elections the Republicans have made large gains.

A despatch from Denver says that the election in Colorado Territory, Tuesday, resulted in the return of Allen A. Bradford, Republican, to Congress by an increased majority, and that the Republicans will have a large majority in the legislature. In all the following States and Territories the Republicans have gained largely in the elections held within the last two weeks:

VERMONT.
DELAWARE.
MONTANA.
NEW MEXICO.
COLORADO.

Tuesday morning we shall add Maine to this list.

WELL STATED.—Hon. Lewis Barker in a recent speech stated the question at issue between Republicanism and Democracy thus: "This fight is between the Republican school house and the Democratic slave pen; between the Republican church and the Democratic gambling hell and brothel, and between the Republican Young Mens' Christian Association and the Democratic Ku-Klux Klan."

He also made the follbwing succinct statement:

"THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY, HAVING FOR FOUR YEARS SOUGHT THE LIFE OF THE REPUBLIC IN ORDER TO BECOME ITS ADMINISTRATOR, NOW CITES IT BEFORE THE PROBATE COURT OF THE COUNTRY THAT IT MAY BE APPOINTED ITS GUARDIAN."

—A Mr. Chandler of Alstead, N. H., has some corn that has been planted sixty-six days, which is now ready for harvesting.

The Politics of the Army.

When the Democrats are charged with disloyalty they undertake to repel the charge by showing the number of Democrats in the army during the war. They have a very convenient way of reckoning. They subtract from the whole number of men in the field the number who voted for Lincoln and call the rest, as well those who did not as those who did vote, Democrats. The charge of disloyalty is brought against the present Democratic party and hence they are not at liberty to prove their loyalty by pointing to the example of those who were Democrats before the war but have since become Republicans. How unfair the Democratic mode of reckoning is, may be seen by the conflicting results which it gives when applied to our State.

Among the Maine soldiers in the army Lincoln received 2692 votes in 1864. Setting the whole number of soldiers from our own State in the army at that time at the very low estimate of 25,000, we have if this mode of reckoning be correct, upwards of 22,000 Democrats among them.

But what is the result of applying to the Democratic vote this rule that all who do not vote with one party belong to the other? for it is a poor rule that will not work both ways.

McClellan had 473 votes among our soldiers from Maine, leaving more than 24,000 Republicans instead of 22,000 Democrats. Any one can see that this mode of reckoning is a humbug.

Now it is reasonable to suppose that about the same proportion of Democrats as of Republicans voted in the army, and the best available test of the relative patriotism of the two parties is in a comparison of the votes on each side among the soldiers. Lincoln's vote among the soldiers of Maine was 2692; McClellan's, 473. Among the soldiers of New Hampshire Lincoln's majority was 1347 while his majority on the much larger home vote was only 2182.

In Pennsylvania, Lincoln's majority on the home vote was 5712, while on the army vote not one tenth as large in the aggregate, his majority was 14,363, there being more than two Republican votes to one Democratic, among the Pennsylvania soldiers.

In Ohio on a total home vote of 419,819 Lincoln's majority was 28,197, while on a soldiers vote of 50,113, his majority was 31,221, giving more than four-fifths of the Ohio soldiers to the Republicans.

Among the Kentucky soldiers more than two thirds were Democratic, the reason of which need puzzle no one.

Among the Iowa soldiers here were 17,310 Republican votes to 1921 Democratic, the relative strength of Republicans on the home vote being only 60 per cent. while on the army vote it was 90 per cent.

Statistics from the other states are not at hand, but these are a fair sample. They show which party it was that furnished the soldiers and fought the battles of the Union. They fully explode the boast so often made by Democratic orators that the Republicans monopolized all the offices in the army leaving the poor Democrats to do the hard fighting. They show that in no case did the Democratic party furnish more than one soldier when the Republicans furnished two, and that oftener the latter sent to the war five where one was sent by the former. Figures do not lie. Let not that party which is now and always has been leagued with the traitors who stole our forts and arsenals, succeed in stealing from the loyal party the honor of suppressing the Rebellion.

Shall the Carpetbagger Return?

On the first and fourth pages of this paper will be found accounts of the condition of affairs in the three States of Virginia, Louisiana and Georgia. The Virginia letter is from a man who for many years has taken an active and prominent part in the politics of that State, and the Louisiana letter from a gentleman in whose statements the most implicit reliance may be placed. Both add to the great mass of testimony that has previously been gathered from the whole South to the effect that the election of Seymour and Blair would be the signal for the immediate and compulsory exodus of all men of Northern birth from eleven States.

There are some of the Democratic leaders within the limits of the late Confederacy who deny that, if left to themselves, the Southern people would oppress the freedmen, but there are none, so far as we have seen, who even pretend that a Northern man would be permitted to continue his residence among them. They uniformly threaten proscriptive measures varying all the way from the "war of extermination" advocated by the Democratic butcher, Forrest, to the social and political ostracism of the more prudent politicians like Stephens.

This purpose is so tenaciously held and so generally cherished that even the caution of men anxious to conciliate as much as possible before election—"till after November"—cannot for a moment conceal it. After election, the Ohio and Susquehannah are to become, in the vigorous language of Albert Pike, "rivers of fire which no Northern Hun may cross and live."

It is well to understand thoroughly the results that are sure to flow from giving back again this government into the hands of the men who sought to destroy it. Leaving out of the account the fate of the four millions of "niggers" with whose wrongs and sorrows, the accumulation of centuries, Copperhead philanthropy has nothing to do, these are some of the consequences that touch the white race:

The prophesy contained in the motto of the United States will not be fulfilled. We shall not be one nation of many States, but two. The only guaranty of the perpetuity of the Republic—a homogeneous people—will become impossible of attainment.

With the carpet-baggers there come from the South the common schools. The planters are not yet friendly to those great levalers—deadly enemies to class distinction that brook no aristocracy but an aristocracy of brains.

The old system of labor continues. The old system of immense landed estates goes into the next century. CAPITAL STILL OWNS TOIL, AND FOR THIS THE NORTHERN LABORER SUFFERS EQUALLY WITH HIS SOUTHERN BROTHER.

Now if the history of the first half of the century tells to us anything of the last half it tells us that these things shall not be. It were a sufficiently calamitous circumstance if the Northern soldier who had periled life and limb for the preservation of his country, could not upon the return of peace possess property and establish his home in any part of its broad domain; it were shame enough if crossing a river made a citizen of the United States an alien on his own soil; but that the South should inclose itself with a Chinese wall of prejudice and arrogance and make itself a school for inculcating ideas antagonistic to democratic institutions, is a thing not to be suffered. Grant has once broken through this wall when defended by bayonets, and he will level it to the ground next November.

"Third Rate Men."

One of the delegates appointed by the Shipbuilder's Convention of this State, a prominent Republican, upon his return from Washington, said he was disgusted with Congress and that he found the members to be only third rate men! As his business was chiefly with the Maine delegation, we presume he referred more particularly to them. Do the people wish to remain represented represented, according to high Republican authority, by "third rate men" and allow their best interests to go to the dogs? They will have a chauce to decide on Monday next.

A Democratic cotemporary publishes the above. Let us see what the Democracy call first rate men.

First, we have Charles A. Shaw, of Biddeford, who has distinguished himself by swindling the public by the "ten cent" dodge and by securing the discharge of one hundred laboring men and seven wounded soldiers from the Kittery Navy Yard.

Then we have Dr. Garcelon and Dr. Ladd, candidates for Congress in the second and fourth Congressional Districts. On what particular part of the roll of fame are the names of these disciples of Esculapius written? How does their public record compare with that of Fessenden, Morrill, Lynch, Blaine and our other Congressmen? Who ever heard of Dr. Garcelon and the Penobscot lad outside of their own cities, before they were nominated for Congress by Democrats?

As for E. Wilder Farley, of Newcastle, and Arno Wiswell, of Ellsworth, does anyone believe that when taken from the decent obscurity in which they now happily dwell, they will make names as well known as those of the gentlemen with whom they contest the honor of a seat in Congress?

If we go out of the State we find the Democracy attaching itself to such men as Vallandigham of Ohio, who came North at the time of the anti-draft riots in 1863 with certain of the Confederates to excite insurrection in Northern cities. Is he a "first rate" man, or is it Morrisey, the pugilist?

—Timber, rendered fire-proof by impregnating it with silicates, is used extensively in Germany for flooring-planks, doors and staircases.

—The Christian Register pertinently asks, "Will the Coming Woman Work?" The editor gallantly answers, "Yes, if you give her the opportunity."

The Fiscal Policy of the United States Vindicated.

The National Debt Reduced $802,733,329.

Great Speech of Hon. Edward Atkinson.

Hon. Edward Atkinson, one of the most distinguished financiers and political economists in the country, made an unusually instructive speech before the Massachusetts Republican State Convention on Wednesday. The point elucidated in the extract we make in the astounding falsity of the Democratic charge that the national debt had not been reduced since the war. We have been accustomed to take as the maximum debt the sum embraced in the Treasury report for August 1865. This as compared with the sum now due shows a very creditable reduction of the debt. But every intelligent man has well understood that the $2,757,000,000 due on the 1st of August 1865 did not include the whole indebtedness of the country. Mr. Atkinson has obtained the official figures from the Treasury Department and shows that the true sum due the creditors of the United States at that time was $3,287,733,329, and that $802,733,329, or more than one fourth has been paid.

After reading the extract from Mr. Atkinson's speech the extent of Democratic misrepresentation in taking the debt statement for April, 1865, as the maximum will be appreciated:

The ascertained debt of the United States on the first day of April, 1865, as entered upon the books of the Treasury Department, amounted to $2,366,955,077. Four months later, on the first of August, 1865, the debt represented upon the books amounted to $2,757,689,571; and the latter sum has been assumed of late to have been the maximum debt of the country at any one time.

But such was very far from being the fact. These figures represent only the amount of debt actually entered upon the books of the Treasury Department, but there existed at that time a liability for a very large sum not then entered, but for which the government was bound as much as if the bonds had then been issued. A liability since recognized and since paid.

At that time the Democratic party leaders asserted what they now find it convenient to forget, viz: that the burden of debt imposed upon the country by the war was three to four thousand million dollars, and for once they were right; the true liability of the United States, caused by the war which the Democratic party of the South had waged upon the Government, amounted in the year 1865 to the sum of $3,287,733,329; and since that date the Republican party has paid over $800,000,000, or one-quarter part of the principal of the entire debt, besides paying the interest.

In proof of this statement let us now review the financial history of the Government from April 1, 1865, to June 30, 1868, the close of the last fiscal year, a period of three years and three months of quasi peace.

The receipts of the government from customs, internal revenue and miscellaneous sources have been as follows:

Customs	$548,978,535
Internal revenue	372,396,278
Miscellaneous	178,743,769
Total	$1,540,058,583

The above total therefore represents the exact amount which the Treasury of the United States has received from sources other than loans since the close of the war.

And now we come to the main question. In what manner has this sum of money, amounting to three fifths the present amount of the public debt, been disposed of?

Although active hostilities virtually ended with the surrender of the great rebel armies in April, 1865, the expenses of the war did not and of necessity could not cease at once. The military and naval forces were at that time in a state of the greatest efficiency. In number they approximated to a million of men in active service, and preparations had been made for prosecuting the war at all points with the greatest energy during the ensuing season.

It was obviously impossible for the Government to say to its million of soldiers and sailors, the moment the rebels laid down their arms—Go! we have no further use for you! To the sick, wounded and disabled—Take care of yourselves! To owners of half constructed vessels, and to those who had contracted in good faith to supply food, clothing and ordnance—We repudiate our contracts and refuse your supplies! No; all these matters were to be settled upon principles of justice, honor and humanity; but to accomplish such a result the Treasury found itself in a position of embarrassment and danger which few either knew or appreciated.

The credit of the Government had become greatly impaired, the 7 3 10 loan was selling at less than par, even in currency, and all other means adopted for raising money during the preceding year had proved or were then proving comparative failures. There were in April, 1865, accounts passed for payment—and overdue—to the extent of more than one hundred and twenty millions of dollars, while all the available cash funds, coin and currency, which the Government could then command, was less, all told, than seventeen millions of dollars.

Treasury vouchers, issued for supplies to the army and navy, were being sold with difficulty by their holders at from 10 to 20 per cent. discount—the pay of the army itself was and had for months been largely in arrears, Horatio Seymour and other rich Democrats were then refusing, as they had always refused, to subscribe for or to hold the bonds of the United States. In short, the Treasury was so near to absolute bankruptcy that the old officials, to whom almost alone these facts were known, dreaded the collapse which they feared might come at any day.

But fortunately the system of internal revenue, the establishment of which had been only too long delayed, was beginning to prove effective, and the receipts from this source and from the renewal of subscriptions to the 7 3-10 loan had tided the Treasury over a most critical period.

The inevitable result was, however, that large payments, the liability for which actually existed during the time, and which were properly part and parcel of the expenses of active war, were carried over into the year succeeding the war, and were then largely paid from the enormous receipts of revenue of that year.

This liability for back pay, for the pay of the troops to the date of their possible discharge—for their transportation and for the settlement of contracts, formed a part of the debt of the United States on the 1st of April, or on the 1st of August, 1865, as much as if it had all been settled and the bonds issued and entered upon the books of the Treasury Department. These disbursements, under the direction of the War Department, from the first of April 1865, to the 30th of June, 1866, a period of only fifteen months, were as follows:

April 1 to June 30, 1865	$414,196,377
July 1 to Sept. 30, "	166,369,237
Oct. 1 to Dec 31, "	68,122,543
Jan. 2, 1866, to June 30, 1866	50,857,923
Total 15 months	$698,546,078

During the same period the expenditures made under the direction of the Navy Department were as follows:

April 1, 1865, to Dec. 31, 1865	$58 847,889
Jan. 1, 1866, to June 30, 1866	17,461,884
Total 15 months	$76,319,773

It thus appears that the disbursements made under the direction of the Army and Navy Departments during the fifteen months immediately succeeding April 1, 1865, the month in which the rebel armies surrendered, amounting to $774,865,851.

It is estimated that a very large proportion of this sum, not less than $400,000,000, was on account of expenses incurred and accounts rendered from three to twelve months prior to the termination of active hostilities, and which had been allowed by the Treasury to remain unliquidated, simply by reason of great financial embarrassments.

The remainder is made up mainly of the following items:

Pay of the army 15 months	$206,000,000
Commissary and Quartermaster's Department for subsistence and transportation, about	60,000,000
Medical and Hospital Department	17,337,000
Arrears of pay of discharged or deceased soldiers	16,180,000
Bounty	10,409,000
Prize money paid by Navy Department	3,875,072

It is therefore not only legitimate, but strictly in accordance with the facts, to assume that this large expenditure of nearly eight hundred million dollars from April 1, 1865, to June 30, 1865, was in every sense a war expenditure, and that it was a liability on the 1st of August, 1856, the date on which our debt appeared to be at its maximum by the Treasury books, as much as if 7 3-10 notes or 5-20 bonds had been issued and entered upon the ledger; and this expenditure is to be measured and estimated by the same standards as those by which the expenditures of the active war are adjudged to have been necessary and unavoidable on the one hand, or unnecessary and inexpedient on the other.

But the liability which existed at that date was even more. There were the debts which humanity and honor alike have imposed upon the country, and which Congress has recognized and paid. We were then liable for pensions—for the equalization of bounties—for further arrears of pay of deceased soldiers—for the claims of States—for the property of loyal men destroyed—for additional prize money—for the reconstruction of the rebellious States—for the care of the freedmen, and for the burial of the dead.

The amount of these liabilities which have been recognized and paid, and which are not included in the previous statement, is as follows:

Pensions	$62,828,955
Bounties	49,382,859
Prize money	1,642,099
Reimbursing States for war expenditures	12,339,188
Claims of loyal men	11,111,300
Freedmen's Bureau	5,617,000
Miscellaneous, including all expenses of reconstruction and national cemeteries, estimated	3,000,000
	$145,912,401
Add to this the expenses of the army and navy for 15 months, as previously stated	774,865,851
And we have a total of	$920,778,252
And in this total we have the sum to be added to the debt as it stood upon the books of the Treasury, April 1, 1865	2,366,955,077
Making the aggregate of	$3,287,733,329

which was the actual maximum of the war debt, being the expenses of the war not paid as they were incurred.

Bear in mind that these figures are all official, carefully prepared for me by Hon. David A. Wells, in order that I might defend the credit of the United States against all comers.

WHAT IS OUR DEBT NOW?

At the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, it was	$2,511,000,000
But in this amount there were included $26 000,000 of bonds loaned to the Pacific Railroad, and to be paid by them	26,000,000 which when deducted from the maximum debt in 1865 proves the actual payment during three years of quasi peace of $802,733,329, or about one-quarter of our entire war liability.
Net debt	$2,485,000,000

Our net debt is a little more at this date owing to the Alaska purchase, the further advance of bonds to the Pacific railroad, and the reduction of the revenue from the frauds of the whiskey ring before the tax on whiskey was reduced.

And now we begin to see to what purpose the revenue of the past two years has been applied. But another great war liability has accrued in that period, viz: the interest upon the war debt, amounting from April 1, 1865, to June 30, 1868, in coin and currency to $438,484,883.

We can now strike the balance between our income and our war expenditures:

Income 3¼ years		$1,540,058,583
War debt paid	$802,733,329
War interest paid	438,484,883
		1,241,218,212
Ordinary expenses		$298,840,371

including the cost of the late Indian war and about $10,000,000, paid under the direction of the Engineer Bureau for river and harbor improvements.

This is the sum and substance of all the charges of extravagance and waste. If it shall be claimed that the whole problem should be stated in currency the result is not changed, only our income and our war interest will each appear a little larger.

The premium on sales of gold having been included in the miscellaneous receipts, the only addition we have to make is to add to the war interest the premium on about two-thirds of the amount paid in gold at an average rate of 40 per cent., say $112,000,000. Our statement will then stand:

Income 3¼ years		$1,540,058,583
Add value of premium on gold, interest paid		112,000,000
Income in currency		$1,652,058,583
War debt paid	$802,733,329
Interest	438,484,883
Premium on gold	112,000,000
		1,353,218,212
Ordinary expenses		$298,840,371

or a little less than 92,000,000 a year.

The expenses of the last fiscal year under the Democratic administration of James Buchanan amounted to $76,841,000

Equal to a currency equivalent at the average of 140 for gold, the rate at which our expenditures should be taken, if our currency expenses be reduced to gold $107,577,400

It therefore appears that the expenses of the government under the direction of a Republican Congress, hampered by a hostile Executive, have been at the rate of $15,500,000 less per annum than the expenses under the last year of Democratic rule.

We claim that they might fairly have exceeded any honest expenditure in 1860, for we have 5 or 6,000,000 more population and a vast extent of new territory to guard and control.

If it shall be alleged that we have included all the expenditures of the War and Navy Departments for fifteen months after April, 1865, as war expenses, and that there would have been a moderate expenditure under any circumstances, we will admit it, but the expenses of the Indian war, estimated at 30 to 40,000,000, and the amount expended on river and harbor improvements ($10,000,000) for which we have made no allowance but have included as ordinary expenses, would fully offset this claim.

It would therefore appear that when partisans charge the Republican Congress with extravagance they charge the last Democratic administration with far greater.

The expenditure made under James Buchanan of $77,841,000 in gold, amounting to a present currency equivalent of $107,577,400, was largely used to arm and equip the rebel States in order that they might wage war against the Government.

Another Solid Democratic Argument.

There is on exhibition at this office another Democratic argument, like those with which the Massachusetts boys were greeted on the 19th of April, 1861, by the Plug-Uglies of Baltimore. It is one of four brickbats thrown at the Ward Three Tanners as they were forming on Preble street, Wednesday night. This one "smashed" a transparency, a second spoilt one of the torches and the others took effect on the persons of members of the organization.

If you should beat us next Monday, Messrs. Ku-Klux, no doubt it would thenceforward be impossible to hold Republican meetings any where, but you will find on election day ballots are more powerful than brickbats and that this Southern style of political discussion can hardly be acclimated here.

GOV. SCOTT, some time since Governor of Kentucky, was a person famous through all the States for his physical as well as moral courage. He was challenged to mortal combat by a snob whom he had offended, and peremptorily refused to accept. The challenging party wrote a note threatening to post him as a coward in all the papers of the State. Governor Scott replied "Do so, and all the people will know what I know now, that you are a liar!"

WE were reminded of this incident by reading the Argus' account of the Republican demonstration in this city Wednesday evening

A Carpet Bagger.—Col Baker of Kentucky is sharp on Andy Johnson. It having been said that these carpet-baggers were the "scum of the North," the Colonel replied by saying that if Andrew Johnson was not a carpet-bagger when he went from North Carolina to Tennessee to represent that State in Congress, it was because he hadn't even so much as a carpet bag to his name, but carried all his effects tied up in a bandanna handkerchief.

Political Notes.

Southern Democratic papers, as well as their Northern brothers, are alarmed at the speeches of Hampton and his tribe. The Charleston Courier says think the truth but speak it softly. It can't be done gentleman. You've shown the dagger in your sleeve and you can't recall the picture.

The New York Tribune offers for sale the speeches and messages of Horatio Seymour as a Republican campaign document.

The Democratic platform recommends payments of the public obligations in strict accordance with their terms. They learned that phrase while they were running the Confederate Government. They paid the Confederate notes in strict accordance with their terms viz.: one year after a treaty of peace shall be signed between the Confederate States and the United States.

The Memphis Avalanche declares that the "forbearance" of the rebels in not killing off every Radical correspondent or editor in the South "should create a feeling of admiration among the Northern people."

The Pittsburgh Post (Dem.) makes the following confession:

There is no trouble about the money this year with the Democrats, there is slashins of it—and why not? The Democrats stayed at home during the war, and got the mule and other fat contracts, whilst the Republicans were getting killed in the army. That's what's the matter.

George E. Pugh, a Democratic leader in Ohio, puts a light estimate on the Constitution. He says:

"I would not give them a three cent postage stamp for their fourteenth amendment. It is not part of the Constitution and never will be. It is a base fraud, and I say as Frank Blair said, these carpet-bag governments must be overthrown."

The Mobile Register, praising the Democrats, says that a rebel soldier can talk with a Northern Democrat upon political subjects with as much assurance of sympathy and common aim and purpose, as he could feel in talking with one of his old comrades in arms.

State Politics.

Albert C. Pray Esq., is the Republican candidate for Representative for Livermore and Turner.

The editor of the Banner has received a note from W. D. O'Brien, Esq., of Cornish, desiring that his paper may be stopped because of its political "hits" and "flings." In reply to these charges the editor offers Mr. O'Brien $100 for each "hit" and "fling" that he is able to point out in the Banner during the last four years.

Andrew Leighton has been nominated for Representative to the Legislature by the Republicans of Yarmouth and North Yarmouth.

There was a large and enthusiastic rally of the Republicans of Knox county at Camden, Wednesday. It was the largest meeting yet held in the county. Hon. Henry Wilson and L. H. Chandler spoke in the afternoon and evening.

The Bangor Whig says that Sunset Cox left Bangor in disgust at the coldness of his reception.

Lyndon Oak, Esq., of Garland, has been nominated for representative by the Republicans of Exeter and Garland district; and Francis Blackman, Esq., of Bradley, in the district of Milford, Holden, &c.

The Bath Times says that in the joint debate between Dr. Garcelon and Hon. W. Gilbert, the former was severely punished.

Varieties.

—Last Saturday there was a swimming race in New York between a Prussian and Australian and an American. Each had served in the navy of his own country. The American was the winner.

—The Avenir National declares that rumors of war come from all parts of Europe, In Prussia the fortresses are inspected, Austrian representatives have "seen" Louis Napoleon at Biarritz, and La Liberté cries out: "How long can this state of things continue? How long will France consent to remain on the qui vive with 900,000 men in arms and £52,000,000 of money in the vaults of the Rue de la Vrilihere?"

—Among recent visitors at the White Mountains is Mr. Thomas Hill, the artist of the Yo Semite Valley. Mr. Hill has been spending some weeks up at the Waumbek House, making sketches for his winter work. He has taken a few from this point, and has a commission for a large view from Mount Willard, looking down the Notch. Every visitor to the mountains has probably admired that view.

SEPTEMBER TERM—GODDARD, J., PRESIDING.

THURSDAY.—No. 33—Geo. W. Parker vs. Chas. E. Hall. Action for trespass. Submitted to presiding Judge.

Geo. B. Emery. J. H. Williams.

The Court was engaged the greater portion of the day on cases of naturalization. Quite a number were admitted as citizens. T. K. Lane, Esq., of Biddeford, came in with a lot, many of whom he could not get through.

At the coming in of Court this morning the new docket will be called.

JUDGE KINGSBURY PRESIDING.

THURSDAY.—John Coughlan, for last driving, was fined and paid $5 and costs.

John Lipsey, common drunkard, was sent to the House of Correction for thirty days.

The case of some boys, comp ained of for stealing a horse and wagon for the purpose of taking a ride was continued.

Uriah W. Briggs, for embezzlement of money from the Grand Trunk Railway Company. After a part of the evidence for the prosecution was out, a motion was made to dismiss the action, on the ground that the evidence was not sufficient to sustain the charge. The Court continued the case until Friday to allow for the consideration of the question.—Barnes and J. H. Drummond for complainant. C. P. Mattocks for defence.

Every member is expected to be in line unless previously reported by the Surgeon as unfit for duty.

Per order of Committee.

Cavalry Battalion.

The Cavalry Battalion will meet, dismounted, at Lancaster Hall, at 5 o'clock P. M., to-day, for the purpose of making arrangements for the visit to Biddeford.

Rallying Committee of Ward Six.

The following persons volunteered and were appointed as Rallying Committee and Vote Distributors for Monday, 14th inst., and will report at the Ward Room at 10 o'clock:

Eben Corey, Edwin Clement, J. W. Waterhouse, T. E. Twitchell, Saml. Waterhouse, Woodbury S. Dana, James D. Fessenden, J. H. Hamlin, Wm. Allen, Jr., Thomas A. Roberts, John C. Proctor, Fred. N. Dow, A. B. Stephenson, Wm. P. Jordan, George Worcester, Oliver Gerrish, Rensalaer Cram, Luther Dana, Jr., W. H. Stephenson, Isaac Jackson, John F. Edwards, Charles Sager, George H. Smardon, Fred. G. Messer, Chas. W. Ford.

Look Out for Double Voting.

The Republican Vigilance Committees and all lovers of good government and wholesome laws should be at the polls early on Monday morning and watch the ballot box! See that there is no double voting by the Jacobites. They are desperate, and act on the principle that "all is fair in politics." A party, too, that rejoiced at Union defeats in the rebellion, and mourned with their Southern rebel friends at Union victories, is not to be trusted. Republicans, be vigilant, be active, and the right will prevail.

Delegates to Nominate Candidates for Representatives.

The Republican Ward caucuses last evening were well attended, and the following delegates were selected with much unanimity and good feeling to nominate candidates for Representatives from this city:

Ward 1—Russell Lewis, John B. Lucas, Thomas S. Jack, George F. Ayer, James Knowlton, George Trefethen, Charles H. Holland.

Ward 2—H. S. Melcher, A. Wentworth, J. F. Land, Franklin Fox, W. W. Ruby, H. H. Ricker, Jona. H. Fogg—with power to fill vacancies.

Ward 3—Nathan Webb, J. H. Coffin, Spencer Rogers, Howard Taylor, Albro E. Chase, W. G. F. Woodard, Dorville Libby.

Ward 4—Andrew P. Morgan, William G. Twombly, George W. True, Albert B. Stevens, Josiah C. Shirley, John R. Corey, Charles E. Cram.

Ward 5—J. H. Drummond, M. P. Emery, A. D. Marr, George H. Libby, Franklin Sawyer, Hanson M. Hart, George F. Westcott.

Ward 6—E. P. Gerrish, Hiram Brooks, C. W. Ford, Byron D. Verrill, Edwin Clement, Robert Holyoke, John C. Procter

Ward 7—Henry L. Paine, William O. Fox, John F. Leavitt, Wm. H. Stewart, Eben Wentworth, Cyrus K. Ladd, Samuel E. Spring.

LATEST NEWS

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE

PORTLAND DAILY PRESS.

Friday Morning, September 11, 1868.

WASHINGTON.

THE SEVEN-THIRTIES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Mr. McCulloch gives official notice that on and after Monday all 7-30 notes must be forwarded direct to the Treasurer of the United States at Washington for redemption.

SOUTHERN CLAIMS FOR COMPENSATION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Attorney General Ashton has sent in an opinion to the Secretary of War in reference to Southern claims, for compensation for seizure and use of premises during the war. He takes the ground that under existing laws the Quartermaster General has no authority to allow any demands of this character. The case which was made the test was that of one Elliot, of Tennessee, whose premises were converted into a hospital during the rebellion. Claims of this nature to the amount of $30,000,000 are pending before the Department. They will of course be disallowed under this construction of the law.

BINCKLEY MILITANT.

The Sun's Washington dispatch says private telegrams from New York, as well as parties who have arrived here from that city, report that Binckley's labors there in the matter of investigating the alleged frauds upon the revenue have been brought to an inglorious close. It appears that yesterday afternoon Binckley sent for the U. S. District Attorney to visit him at his room at the Astor House. Mr. Courtney complied with the request, and was soon in the presence of the distinguished Solicitor of the Internal Revenue Bureau. Binckley commenced business by asking Mr. Courtney which side he had made up his mind to appear for in the examination before Commissioner Guttman to-day. The District Attorney, in a somewhat snubbish tone told him he could not talk with him upon that subject, and immediately rose to depart.

Binckley determined to make Courtney face the music and rushed towards the door and attempted to close it so as to keep the District Attorney in the room. In so doing he pinched Courtney's finger in the door. The latter immediately turned and struck out from the shoulder, getting in such a blow between Mr. Binckley's eyes as to send him in a hurried and confused manner to a sofa. Courtney, enraged by the pain of his fingers, followed up his success by mounting the prostrate solicitor of internal revenue bureau upon the sofa, where he pounded him until the ex-Assistant Attorney General called loudly for quarter. Courtney, however, had gone in to win, and poor Binckley's cries were unheeded until they attracted the attention of two Deputy United States Marshals, who happened to be passing the door, and who rushed in to save him from the irate Courtney. Upon being relieved from the unpleasant engagement Mr. Binckley said nothing further.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

The Commercial's special Washington says as to the meeting of Congress in September, no decision on the subject will be made until the result of the Maine election is ascertained. If the Republicans carry the State by an increased majority, indicative of Grant's election by the Northern States with the aid of the Southern electoral votes, there will be no extra session. The strong point in favor of an extra session is the probability that when Mr. Johnson is relieved from the fears of Congressional interference he will adopt measures that will throw the doubtful States into the hands of the Democracy.

NEW EXPORT WAREHOUSE.

An export warehouse has just been established for Boston, to which shipments of tobacco in bond under the new regulations can now be made.

RETURN OF SOLICITOR BINCKLEY.

Solicitor Binckley, although he returned to Washington early this morning, did not visit either the Treasury Department or the Internal Revenue Bureau to-day. He was engaged in preparing an official report of his proceedings in New York, probably to be submitted to the President.

NEW YORK.

CITY ITEMS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Councilmanic embroglio has ended, the five members concerning whom legal steps were taken having been admitted to seats to-day.

Antonio Bushignani, husband of Mrs. Gen. Easton, was arrested and brought before the Court to-day on a charge of having abandoned her. The prisoner is 50 years of age and the wife 78. It is alleged that he has been living with her grand-daughter, by whom it is said he has had two children, and also that he has spent $100,000 left Mrs. Easton by a former husband.

An attempt was made early this morning at a pier in North River to murder a private watchman by a party of thieves. The one who fired the pistol has been arrested.

The first game of champion base ball match to-day between the Unions of Morrisana, and the Atlantics of Booklyn, was won by the latter. The score stood 31 against 7. The Atlantics made fifteen runs in the 7th inning by heavy batting. The Unions white washed six times and the Atlantics twice.

ADDRESS BY HORATIO SEYMOUR.

SARATOGA, Sept. 10.—Horatio Seymour delivered an address to the Saratoga County Agricultural Society to-day, which was devoted to agricultural subjects. Political affairs were scrupulously avoided.

In the evening there were discussions, when Gov. Seymour was present and spoke on the subject of removing the worm out of the soil. He came here he said in pursuance of an old engagement; he felt some hesitation in doing so in his present position, but he was glad he had carried out the promise as the courtesies he received from persons politically opposed to him were very gratifying; it had been a pleasant occasion, for the day they had laid aside all questions except those of a common interest; they had devoted the day to the subjects in which all are concerned, the prosperity and progress of the land.

After the meeting Seymour was serenaded at the Union Hotel by Bernstein's Band and called out by his political friends. He thanked them for the compliment, and said they must not expect much after the labors of the day. He would ever remember with extreme pleasure his visit to Saratoga, and that in the time of such an exciting election they were able for a day to lay aside differences of opinion and unite in discussing measures calculated to benefit the interests of our common country. He would conclude by introducing a gallant soldier who had maintained the character of the State of New York on many a battle-field, Gen. Granger.

Gen. Granger said Mr. Seymour, as the foremost statesman of the country, had come to-day to speak on agriculture. It was not proper for him to speak on politics now. Gen. Grant says "Let us have peace." He believed that voting for Seymour and Blair would bring peace.

The crowd dispersed with cheers for Seymour and Blair.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Sept. 10.—General John H. Ketchum has been unanimously re-nominated for Congress in the 12th District by the Republican Convention.

ALBANY, Sept. 10.—The Democrats of the Fourteenth Congressional District nominated to-day Stephen L. Mayhew, of Schoharie, for Congress.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION,

AUBURN, Sept. 10.—The third day of the Young Men's State Christian Association found a full attendance. W. H. Belding, of New York, offered the following resolution in behalf of the Germans of the different Associations: Resolved, That the third annual convention of the State of New York respectfully commend to the Fourteenth International Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations, the importance of considering the interests of the German young men throughout the country, and the question of appointing some one to have this matter more specially in charge.

The resolution was adopted. The Convention will adjourn sine die this evening.

GEORGIA.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

ATLANTA, Sept. 10.—In the House to-day a resolution to reconsider the adoption of the resolution of yesterday reflecting on the Governor's message was lost, in compliance with the resolution passed by the Assembly.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

In consequence of the violence committed in some counties by armed unlawful bands of negroes, the Governor has issued a proclamation, in which he denies giving authority for armed or unarmed organizations, and warns the people that drilling and exercising in military tactics with arms by any organized body except the army of the United States is unauthorized, unlawful and against the peace and good order, and must be immediately suspended. He said that persons distinguished for their hostility to the United States and the State are promoting the said acts of violence by publicly denouncing the laws as unconstitutional and void, and the result of said acts of violence and insurrectionary appeals is manifest in the rapid spread of the disposition on the part of those who maintain the validity of the laws of Congress and of the State governments established thereunder, to protect themselves by arms against such acts of violence and combinations against civil rights. He quotes Gen. Grant's parole given to Lee's army, wherein it says the persons paroled will not be disturbed by the United States authorities as long as they observe the parole and the laws in the places they reside.

CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATIONS.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 10.—The Democrats of the 4th District have nominated Thomas G. Lawson for Congress.

The Radical Convention nominated C. H. Prince for re-election to Congress in the 5th District.

LOUISIANA.

CONGRESSMAN'S HOUSE ATTACKED BY REBELS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The Post's special has the following special dispatch, just received here from one of the Louisiana members of Congress:

New Orleans, Sept. 9.—To T. L. Tullock, Secretary of the National Union Committee:—My house in St. Francisville was mobbed by armed Democrats on the 29th ult. They said a few days ago, was utterly without foundation. The consent of the Sultan was accorded in the most gracious manner as a compliment to the Admiral and the country he represented.

FRANCE.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The Emperor reviewed the troops at Camp of Chalons. The whole army, including the cavalry, artillery, infantry, engineer corps, pontoon and baggage trains were drawn up on the plain. After going through a series of evolutions, all the corps marched by the Emperor in review, each regiment as it passed cheering with great enthusiasm for the Emperor, Empress and Prince Imperial. An immense multitude of spectators covered the neighboring hills.

The Queen of England, now in this city, is the guest of the British Ambassador, Lord Lyons. No ceremony is observed by Her Majesty or her attendants, but the privacy of the party is strictly maintained.

Reports are in circulation that the Emperor had consented to an interview with the Queen of Spain.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—Saturday will be observed as a holiday in this city, and the Stock Exchange will be closed.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

THE TRIAL OF WHALEN—LITTLE DOUBT OF HIS CONVICTION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The trial of Whalen at Ottawa was resumed yesterday. Detectives Cullen and Hess testified as to a conversation they heard in jail between Whalen and Doyle, wherein Whalen acknowled he shot McGee. Turner testified to having several times heard Whalen threaten to take the life of McGee. Other witnesses gave evidence highly unfavorable to the prisoner. The case for the prosecution has closed. At six o'clock the Court adjourned till to-day, when the defence begins. Whalen has lost the defiant air he assumed on the first day of the trial, and appeared anxious and uneasy. It is supposed the case for the defence will occupy about a week. Scarcely a doubt is entertained of his conviction.

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—The Court opened to-day at 10 o'clock. The principle line of the defence was to impeach the evidence of the Crown witnesses, especially Lacroix and Turner, and an attempt to prove that the barrel of Whalen's pistol had been accidentally discharged a short time before the murder, by which they account for the cartridge freshly put in just after Mr. McGee's death. The impression prevails that the defence so far is very lame.

MEXICO.

DEFEAT OF THE INSURGENTS.

HAVANA, Sept. 10.—Late advices from Mexico report that the insurgents in Sierra Puebla have been defeated in a battle, losing all their artillery and many prisoners.

COMMERCIAL.

New York Stock and Money Market.

The Georgia Legislature.

The Expulsion of Twenty-Five Colored Members—Protests—What the Negroes Said—The Case of Bradley.

The Atlanta papers give very meagre accounts of the expulsion of the twenty-five colored members of the Georgia legislature. It appears from the following three-line paragraph in the New Era of the 4th instant that two formal protests were presented—one by the expelled members, and the other by whites—but neither of these protests is yet published:

Mr. Petter sent up a protest signed by the colored members, and attached thereto a protest by a number of white members

One of the ejected members, Romulus Moore made the following speech:

He said he claimed his seat because the State of Georgia seceded in 1861; because the amnesty proclamation was refused; because General Lee surrendered to General Grant; because reconstruction was offered to the South and refused; because he was appointed a registrar, an officer of the United States; because he was elected to the late convention; and because he was elected to the seat which he now occupies by the qualified voters of his county. He was sorry to know that members of his own party were opposed to colored members holding seats here. He took the Bible for his guide, as well in politics as in religion. He knew what constitutions were; could read and write; did not believe there was a colored member on this floor who could not read and write. He knew, in the late convention, white members who had to get some one to sign their names for them. He did not doubt there were some in this house in the same condition. He said God had intended negroes should hold office, and he believed He would carry the work on. If turned out he would go home and tell his constituents they were denied representation here. He would advise them to be patient and obedient, and await the decision of that high power which had originated the reconstruction measures. By adopting the Constitutional Amendment we had put on the top rail, and stake-and-ridered it. He believed, when the decision was made, these negroes would be brought back here with honor. If God is pleased with the Constitutional Amendment you can't change it—you can't change it unless you can overcome the armies of the United States.

The Augusta (Ga.) Republican has the following:

Our dispatches state that the colored members of the House were ousted yesterday. This will take no one by surprise. We were prepared for it. Indeed since the keynote of revolution was sounded by Frank Blair, and re-echoed by Cobb, Toombs and Hill, we have been prepared for any act of treason to the state or revolution against the government. It will not suffice for gentlemen to say that negroes ought not to be permitted to hold office. The negro is confessedly a citizen, and the constitution of Georgia makes him eligible to hold office. Therefore we deliberately assert that every member of the House—not a natural noodle—that voted to deprive members of seats to which they had been legally elected, because they had black skins, was recreant to his duty as a representative, and violated the obligations which he assumed when he took an oath to support the new Constitution. It only remains for the Legislature to consummate its record of infamy by legislating twenty-three Democrats, defeated before the people into the seats which rightfully belong to men with whiter principles, if they do have blacker skins.

The same paper says:

Before the ratification of the new constitution the following men said that it gave the black man the right to hold office, viz.: Ben. Hill, Judge Reese, Judge Cabiness, Judge Lochrane, E. H. Pottle, Bob Toombs, Cary Styles, Thomas Hardeman, Dr. Redley, P. W. Alexander, P. M. B. Young, R. J. Moses, Howell Cobb, the Lamars, Judge Irwing, together with every Democratic newspaper and every little Democrat in the State—including Rause Wright.

PROPOSED EXPULSION OF COLORED SENATORS.

The House having cleared out the colored members, the Senate now proposed to follow the example. The following dispatch is dated at Savannah Monday:

A resolution was offered in the Senate today declaring Senators Campbell and Wallace not eligible to seats, they being negroes and not eligible under the constitutions of the State and United States.

Mr. Higby (Republican) read a resolution passed heretofore under General Order No. 90, and insisted that it took a two-third vote to bring this matter up.

The Chair decided that a two-third vote was necessary.

Mr. Holcomb said it was the most extraordinary decision ever made, and appealed from the decision of the Chair.

The appeal was sustained by a vote of 54 to 8, and the resolution was made the special order for Friday next.

THE CASE OF SENATOR BRADLEY.

On the 4th instant Governor Bullock issued a proclamation countermanding the order for an election for senator in the counties of Chatham, Effingham and Bryan, and declaring that A. A. Bradley (colored) is succeeded in the Senate by Rufus E. Lester. The proclamation recites the resolutions adopted by the Senate on the 31st of August in which the cause of the alleged ineligibility of Bradley was declared to be his conviction of an offence punishable with imprisonment in the penitentiary. Bradley addressed a Republican meeting in Savannah on the 7th instant. He said the recent action of the Georgia legislature in turning out the negroes would increase the majority for Grant. At first he thought the negro members would draw revolvers and assert their rights in blood, which would have benefitted the Democrats.—He was glad they had done otherwise. He thought the coming election, whichever way it went, would cause bloodshed.

LETTER FROM THE GEORGIA REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Philadelphia Press of to-day says: "The following letter from the chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee of Georgia was written previous to the expulsion of the colored members by the Legislature, and is addressed to the Republican Congressional Committee;

The Democrats have inaugurated a new revolution in this State. They intend to overthrow the State government. The first step has been taken, or rather commenced. We have good evidence that they intend to expel the colored members of the House, and then expel the colored members of the Senate, and seat Democrats in their places. They will then have two-thirds of the House; but if they should not have, white Republicans enough will be expelled to give them two-thirds. They will in the same way get control of the Senate. A bill will then be passed to take the State railroads from the control of the government and give it to the General Assembly. The patronage of the State roads is immense, and with it in their hands they expect to control the Assembly. They then intend to impeach the Governor and remove him; after that, God only knows what they will do.

After appealing to Congress to prevent the expulsion of the colored members, the letter continues:

Our voters will have no protection at the polls, and there is great danger of bloodshed, but I do not know that Congress can do anything for us. We are not in as good condition as other Southern States, for they have Republican legislatures, but the Democrats control ours. They can pass laws to protect voters, but we cannot. We have reliable information that the Democrats are arming in every part of the State, and everything is being done that can be to prevent the colored men from arming. Unless Congress does something for us, God only knows the result in many parts of the State. Our party is composed almost entirely of colored men. If the whites attempt to interfere with them at the polls, and there is every reason to believe that they will, bloodshed will follow. Can Congress do anything for us? Our General Assembly will do nothing to preserve peace; will Congress do it?

A SURE CURE FOR CATARRH.
DEMERITT'S
North American Catarrh Remedy.
Boston, June 19, 1868.

Messrs D. J. Demeritt & Co—Gents: For the last fifteen years I was afflicted with Chronic Catarrh. I have used many Catarrh remedies but obtained no help until I tried your North American Catarrh Remedy. When I commenced using it I had nearly lost my voice; less than two packages completely restored it to me again, as can be vouched for by the many who knew me, the remedy having the desired effect. I would say to all who are troubled with this disease, try the North American Catarrh Remedy, and you will be satisfied with the result.
N. S. LILLIE,
Employed for 16 years by the American Express Co,

Charlestown, Mass., 1867.
D. J. Demeritt, Dear Sir: I cannot refrain from an expression of the greatest gratitude to you; indeed I have no language to express the great benefit I have received from your North American remedy. For ten years I was afflicted with chronic Catarrh, gradually growing worse, until I had almost become a burden to myself and those around me. I was induced by a friend to try your remedy; I have used not quite one package, and to my astonishment I am entirely cured. I say to those afflicted with Catarrh, try it, and you will be cured of that annoying disease.
